Dear Governor Hogan, President Miller, and Speaker Busch:

As required under Criminal Procedure Article § 11-923(g) and, in accordance with § 2-1246 of the State Government Article, please accept this letter as fulfillment of the Governor's Office of Crime Control and Prevention's requirement to produce an annual report on the Sexual Assault Crisis Programs. Enclosed is the required report.

The report details a summary of agencies funded under this program. The State provides over $1.6 million in funding assistance to local jurisdictions to assist in developing and implementing strategies that aid victims of sexual violence. The Governor's Office of Crime Control and Prevention is committed to providing designated funding to Rape Crisis Centers throughout Maryland as they provide needed services to victims of sexual assault. Should you have any questions relating to the information in this report, please feel free to contact my office at (410) 697-9338.

Sincerely,

SEXUAL ASSAULT CRISIS PROGRAMS REPORT

The Governor's Office of Crime Control and Prevention mission is to serve as a coordinating office that advises the Governor on criminal justice strategies. The office plans, promotes, and funds efforts with government entities, private organizations, and the community to advance public policy, enhance public safety, reduce crime and juvenile delinquency, and serve victims.

During the 2011 Legislative Session, the Maryland Department of Human Resources proposed legislation to transfer the Domestic Violence and Rape Crisis/Sexual Assault Programs to the Governor's Office of Crime Control and Prevention. This transfer became effective July 1, 2011 through the passage of House Bill 739. The Sexual Assault Crisis Program is established by Criminal Procedure Article § 11-923(g) of the Annotated Code of Maryland.

The Maryland Rape Crisis Program is a statewide program funded through the State General funds and Sexual Assault Prevention funds from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Services are provided through a network of community-based rape crisis programs and are available in every county in Maryland as well as Baltimore City. These programs provide comprehensive services to meet the specific needs of rape and sexual offense victims and family members affected by the abuse. Having these services available on a local level increases the likelihood that victims will avail themselves of the services and that there shall be appropriate linkages to other community-based services as needed. Additionally, provision of services and community education fosters a coordinated community approach to serving victims of rape and sexual assault that includes partnerships with law enforcement, courts, hospitals, local departments of social services and other related support agencies.

These funds are used to provide services to adult and child victims of rape and other sexual offenses. Services to victims include a 24-hour hotline, counseling, medical accompaniment, and assistance in accessing and using other support services such as legal assistance. Additionally, funds are designated for specific prevention efforts throughout the State. These efforts include presentations to community groups, pamphlets, and radio & television public service announcements. Currently, funds support 17 rape crisis programs that serve all 24 jurisdictions (counties and Baltimore City) in Maryland. These programs consist of both private and non-profit agencies as well as governmental agencies.

*Data:

- According to the Uniform Crime Report prepared by the Maryland State Police, in 2014, there were 1,144 forcible rapes reported. This represents a 2.1% decrease when compared to 2013; however, this figure still remains higher than 7 years ago when rapes were at an all time low.
- The most recent data states that there were 1,144 forcible rapes reported. Maryland's rapes and rape rate are decreasing at a slower pace when compared to other declining part 1 offenses. Recent data states that the three counties with the most rape reports were Baltimore City, Prince George's, and Montgomery County.
- Many of the counties who had experienced record low numbers of rapes in recent years, experienced a slight increase in 2014.
- Most recently in Maryland, out of all forcible rapes, 90% were rape by force and 10% were attempts to rape.

- A total of 351 persons were arrested for forcible rape in Maryland, according to the most recent data, with 13% juvenile, 59% Black, 40% White and 2% consisting of American Indian and Asian.

Maryland's Rape Crisis and Recovery Centers

Rape Crisis and Recovery Centers provide the following confidential services to adult and child victims as well as their families, partners, and loved ones:

- Crisis intervention, counseling, and referral
- Victim accompaniment to hospitals, police interviews, and court to provide support and information about options
- 24-hour Crisis Hotline with counselors trained to listen and offer information
- Individual, group, and family psychotherapy
- Assistance navigating the legal and judicial systems

All crisis-intervention, referral, and accompaniment services are free. Clinical services are provided by specially trained psychologists, social workers, and paraprofessionals. No one is turned away due to inability to pay for services.
